SPEAKER'S STATEMENTSOmbuds Day

Prior to proceeding with the Daily Routine, the Speaker made the following statement regarding Ombuds Day.

“The fourth annual Ombuds Day is today, October 14, 2021. This international event seeks to improve public awareness of Ombuds and their work. I would like to recognize Jason Pedlar, who is in the gallery today, from the Office of the Ombudsman. Welcome.

The theme for 2021 is ‘Ombuds: Exploring Options to Resolve Conflict Together’. The goal for Ombuds Day is to educate the public about the role of Ombuds, explain the wide variety of services that Ombuds provide, encourage greater use of Ombuds programs and services, and highlight the value that Ombuds bring to the institute and constituents they serve.

The Office of the Ombudsman in the Yukon was established in July 1996 when the Ombudsman Act was proclaimed. The Yukon Ombudsman is an officer of the Yukon Legislative Assembly and operates independent of government. The role of the Yukon Ombudsman is to take complaints from citizens who feel that they were treated unfairly when accessing a service delivered by government or other public authorities and to carry out confidential, neutral, impartial investigations of such complaints, free of charge.

Ombuds are uniquely qualified to resolve conflict and to serve as a conduit for change through their ability to bring significant and/or repetitive issues to management’s attention in a safe and confidential way, particularly with sensitive or controversial issues. They may raise issues to leadership that others cannot or will not discuss. This includes identifying unintended consequences of programs and policies that negatively affect constituents.

The Office of the Yukon Ombudsman provides significant value to Yukon citizens and society. Yukoners can learn more about the role of Yukon's Ombudsman by visiting the office website or by contacting the office directly."

Pursuant to Standing Order 11(2), the House proceeded with the Daily Routine.

YUKON LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

First Session35th Legislature

Wednesday, October 27, 2021

The Speaker took the Chair at 1:00 p.m.

PRAYERS

Pursuant to Standing Order 11(1), the Speaker offered a prayer.

SPEAKER'S STATEMENTIn recognition of the shooting incident in Faro

The Speaker made the following statement.

“Yesterday, the lives of the residents of the Town of Faro were forever changed because of a tragic shooting incident in that community. Our hearts go out to the community and to the victims and their families. It is always a shock when these things happen, and sadly, they happen with too much frequency.

We must all be vigilant in our calling out of the violence. We must always have a society that does not tolerate it.

I want the community of Faro to know that all of the members have you in their thoughts today and that all members will do what we can do to support your community as you go through the initial shock and into the grieving process.

I now call on all members to rise and we will have a moment of silence.”

MOMENT OF SILENCEIn recognition of the shooting incident in Faro

The Speaker and the House observed a moment of silence in recognition of the shooting incident in Faro.

SPEAKER'S STATEMENTChanges to the Order Paper – Withdrawal of motions

ORAL QUESTION PERIOD

The House conducted the Oral Question Period from 1:29 p.m. to 2:02 p.m.

SPEAKER'S RULINGQuestion of Privilege

Prior to proceeding with Orders of the Day, the Speaker gave the following ruling pertaining to a Question of Privilege raised by Mr. Cathers, Member for Lake Laberge, on November 1, 2021, regarding an advertisement by the Hon. Mr. Mostyn, Minister of Community Services.

“Before the House proceeds to Orders of the Day, the Chair will rule on the question of privilege raised by the Member for Lake Laberge on Monday, November 1, 2021. The Member raised the question of privilege in response to the Minister of Community Services' Facebook posts dated October 21, 2021. The question for the Chair to decide is whether there appears to be a prima facie, or apparent, breach of privilege.

Standing Order 7(4) states:

‘When the Speaker has ruled that

(a) there appears to be a prima facie case of breach of privilege, and

b) the matter has been raised at the earliest opportunity any member may either immediately propose a motion or, not later than at the conclusion of the next sitting day, give notice of a motion calling upon the Assembly to take action thereon or referring the same to a Committee of the Assembly.’

Once such a motion is called for debate, all other business before the House, with the exception of the Daily Routine, will be set aside until debate on the motion is concluded.

As the Chair has noted, members are required to raise questions of privilege at the earliest possible moment after an alleged breach has occurred. The Member for Lake Laberge did not raise this question of privilege on the first available sitting day. However, in this case, the member has asserted that he first became aware of the Facebook posts on Friday, October 29, 2021. The Member brought the matter to the attention of the House on Monday, November 1, 2021.

The Chair will take the Member at his word that he brought it to the attention of the House at the earliest possible moment once he was made aware of it.

The first issue that the Chair considered is whether the language used in the Facebook posts from October 21, 2021 in fact constitutes either a prima facie breach of privilege or a prima facie contempt of the House. To assist in the Chair’s deliberations on this, it was necessary to understand the context in which the post was made. On October 14, 2021, the Government of Yukon issued a news release, number 21-401, on the Yukon.ca website. In this release, as is common in government news releases following the first reading of government bills, there is an explanation of what the legislation would do if the bill is passed.

The Chair considered the language of the actual Facebook posts in question. In these posts, the Minister of Community Services makes various statements, all using the future tense. The Facebook post released on October 21 at 11:04 a.m. includes that the better building program: ‘... will allow Yukoners to renovate their homes to make them more energy efficient’ and ‘Yukoners will be able to access up to $50,000 to make green retrofits’. The text on the image that accompanies the post says: ‘The Better Building Program would provide Yukoners with up to $50,000 for home energy efficient retrofits...’

Later, on October 21, 2021, at 4:23 p.m., the Minister of Community Services released another Facebook post. In this post, the minister states the benefits of what the better building program will do for Yukon businesses: ‘The Better Building Program supports the goals in the Our Clean Future Strategy and will help Yukon businesses retrofit their buildings to make them more energy efficient’. It also says: ‘Yukon businesses will be able to access up to $100,000 to make energy retrofits to their buildings’. The image included with the post says: ‘The Better Building Program would provide Yukon businesses with up to $100,000’.

The Chair believes that this language is consistent with what governments and individual Members of the Legislative Assembly have previously released discussing future programs being contemplated in one form or another by the Legislative Assembly.

The second issue is whether the posts are contrary to previous rulings by previous Speakers of this House. As noted by the Member for Lake Laberge, there are limits to how a government may present what programs will do or would do.

In a ruling regarding pre-budget announcements, Speaker Staffen stated on April 7, 2005 – quote: ‘... not all government news releases acknowledged that such spending was subject to the approval of the Legislature. The Chair believes this statement should be included in all such statements to ensure that the Assembly’s authority is respected, its dignity is protected and the public is properly informed.’

The Minister of Community Services’ Facebook posts on October 21, 2021 did not indicate that the better building program was contingent on bills being passed by the Assembly, as would be the best practice for such messaging. The minister did, however, use the future tense rather than the present tense so as not to confuse the public that the program is already operational.

Unlike the case of the 2018 ruling by House of Commons Speaker Geoff Regan cited by the Member for Lake Laberge, the reader of the October 21 Facebook posts is not left with the idea that the legislation is already in effect but instead is left questioning the timing of when the program will be in place.

Finally, the Member for Lake Laberge referenced a March 7, 2019 ruling by the previous Speaker of the Yukon Legislative Assembly. The Chair does not believe this ruling is wholly applicable. In that case, a government press release presupposed that the Legislative Assembly would pass certain bills prior to the bills actually having received third reading. Those assertions were presumptuous and also confusing. In his ruling, the previous Speaker noted that what had occurred was an error based on a misunderstanding of the legislative process.

There are no assertions that a bill will pass the House in the Facebook posts made by the Minister of Community Services. There is a description of what a program will do in the future, and while it does not indicate what needs to happen before the program can begin, the description is definitely in the future tense.

The Chair will take this opportunity to urge members to use precise language in all their communications with the public. In the age of many different kinds of media where space is limited, it may be convenient to leave out that programs are not yet in place and require legislative approval. It is, however, the best practice and the clearest for the public for members to ensure in these communications that there is no confusion and that the authority of the Assembly is neither called into question nor is the impression given that the Legislative Assembly plays a perfunctory role.

The Chair finds that there is neither a prima facie contempt nor a prima facie breach of privilege in respect of the question of privilege raised by the Member for Lake Laberge. I thank the Member for Laberge for his submission on this matter.”

The House then proceeded to Orders of the Day.

SPEAKER'S STATEMENTIn recognition of Remembrance Day

The Speaker made the following statement.

"I have some notes here before we proceed with Orders of the Day that I want to read regarding Remembrance Day.

Thursday, November 11 is Remembrance Day. It is a day when Canadians are encouraged to take time to honour those who have served and continue to serve in the Canadian Forces. At this time of year, we remember the men and women who have defended Canada during times of war and have brought peace to troubled parts of the world. While Remembrance Day has always been a day to remember those who died in the service of Canada, lately we have become more aware that the price paid by our service men and women sometimes extends beyond their time in uniform. We must remember this and continue to support these fellow Canadians. At this time of year, we also wear poppies to honour the memory of soldiers, sailors, and air force personnel. In doing so, we often reflect upon the great battles that they engaged in.

This year, I will remember Alex Van Bibber, his brothers, Archie and Dan, as well as their friend John Adamson. This triumphant group of aboriginal northerners did their basic training in Vancouver and Wetaskiwin and later took advanced training in Currie Barracks in Calgary. John Adamson and Dan Van Bibber saw service in Europe while the younger brothers, Alex and Archie, were not deployed to Europe before VE Day and instead began training for service in the Pacific. Their training ended when victory over Japan was declared in 1945. They were all discharged by 1946.

Upon returning, we must also remember that treatment of our aboriginal veterans during this period was not the same as for non-aboriginal veterans. This remains a stain on our history. While this was later corrected, it must be part of our thoughts on Remembrance Day that these men and many others served for ideals that were not afforded to them.

We will always be grateful for their service as well as the service of all of our soldiers. While not all served in battle, they did their duty when called upon. We do not celebrate war on this day, and we must remember that war is a human failure – a deep scar on our humanity – and the best result is to avoid the heavy human costs of wars. Sadly, this is not always possible.

Today, we remember the actions of soldiers, sailors, and air force personnel during times of war. We remember the legacy they have left to us. The freedoms that we exercise daily are exercised largely because of the sacrifices made by brave individuals who have served Canada over the years, sometimes in unimaginable circumstances.

As Speaker of the Legislative Assembly and as a Member of the Legislative Assembly, I am reminded of this every day. Canada is a country where free and fair elections are held, where elected officials at all levels can openly debate government laws and policies, and where the rule of law prevails. It is easy to take all of this for granted. We have been born into a country or have come to a country where these institutions already exist and are supported, not just by laws, but, most importantly, by our beliefs in them and our commitment to them.

The establishment of this institution and the ideals that they embody was only possible – and their continued existence is only possible – because there has been and continues to be fellow Canadians who are willing to serve and risk and pay the ultimate price to protect them. This is one reason why we shall remember them.”

Pursuant to Standing Order 11(2), the House proceeded with the Daily Routine.

SPEAKER'S STATEMENTIn recognition of National Child Day

The Speaker made the following statement.

“November 20 is National Child Day, a day that we recognize to show Canada’s commitment to uphold children’s rights. Thirty years ago, Canada ratified the United Nations’ Convention on the Rights of the Child, UNCRC, making a historic commitment to the world’s children to uphold children’s rights, both globally and at home.

Children have rights to be protected from harm, to develop to their full potential, and to be an active participant in their own lives. National Child Day provides an opportunity to celebrate the power of youth’s voice and the actions of those who work to promote the realization of children’s rights.

Throughout the Yukon, young people are stepping up and taking the lead on issues that directly impact them, whether it is reconciliation, environmental issues, education, mental health, social justice, arts, sports, and more. The government recently tabled a report prepared by the Yukon Youth Panel on Climate Change, in which the Yukon First Nations Climate Action Fellowship was also presented.

Young people have shown an incredible resilience and ability to adapt in the midst of an unprecedented year dealing with COVID restrictions and interruptions to their social and educational lives. We could, and should, all look at them as an example.

Today, I would like to bring to your attention an initiative called “Communities Building Youth Futures”, or CBYF. CBYF is a collective of young people and youth-serving organizations working toward developing a territory-wide Yukon youth strategy to support our young people on the issues that matter most to them.

CBYF is led by a team of youth interns who are guiding action teams around four main priorities: youth voice; mental health and wellness; individualized learning; and career inclusion. The first year's interns were Vanessa Oliverio, Samreen Ahmad, Zarah Sydney, Yebin Park, Isaiah Jekesta, and Kamryn Williamson and supported by CBYF manager Robin Mennell.

The interns published a research report highlighting the issues most important to Yukon youth. Earlier this year, interns from CBYF worked with the Child Youth and Advocate office to provide presentations to our former Speaker, the Member for Riverdale North, Yukon deputy ministers, and Yukon government policy analysts about implementing child rights impact assessments in policy development.

This year's interns are Zeta Gallan, Gwen Radzimirska, Ayesha Ahmad, Jennifer Tuton, Samreen Ahmad, supported by project manager Maxime Crawford-Holland. CBYF has provided support to the Yukon Child and Youth Advocate office in conducting a review of school attendance in the Yukon, producing a youth storytelling book highlighting children's rights, and a youth-led engagement in anticipating a review of the Yukon Child and Youth Advocate Act.

Youth advisors have developed a child-friendly version of the act and reviewed a plan to present to the Members' Services Board. Past and present members of this working group are Abeer Ahmad, Ashley Cummings, Victoria Holmes, Samreen Ahmad, Yebin Park, and Chantai Minet. These examples, among many more, remind us of the power of youth engagement. Young people want to be meaningfully involved when it comes to decisions that affect them.

Today, we urge all Yukoners to look at how to enhance the implementation of children's rights in policies and practice. This last year has shown us that they are already speaking up loudly and boldly. It's our turn to listen."

DEPUTY CHAIR'S STATEMENT

Ministers interjecting during the questioning of witnesses

Ms. Tredger, Deputy Chair of Committee of the Whole, made the following statement:

“As was noted by the Chair of Committee of the Whole on November 21, 2019, the primary purpose of having witnesses appear in the Committee is for the witnesses to answer members’ questions. This purpose is also appropriately reflected in the wording of the order that the Committee adopted earlier this month for witnesses to appear from the Yukon Hospital Corporation. I will note that nowhere in the orders arising out of motions for witnesses to appear in Committee of the Whole do the orders provide for the minister to interject during the questioning of witnesses.

There is a very short amount of time that the Committee has to question witnesses and for the witnesses to answer members’ questions – just two hours in total. It is the Chair’s role to ensure that the Committee uses its time in the way that the Committee has directed. The order that the Committee adopted provides for witnesses, as opposed to ministers or any other members, to answer members’ questions.

In keeping with the spirit and letter of the Committee’s direction, the Chair is of the view that the people who should be responding to the questions asked by members of witnesses are the witnesses themselves.

The Chair will note that if a minister wishes to respond to a question that a member has posed to witnesses, there are a number of avenues available to ministers to provide information to the Assembly. One of these avenues is filing a legislative return at a later time. A second avenue is writing a follow-up letter to the member.

In addition, if the witness is of the opinion that a question received is not one that is within the scope of their area or program, then the witness has the ability to indicate this in their response to the question. In general terms, members tend not to be experts in witnesses’ full scopes of practice, which is why witnesses are brought before the Committee. Questions outside the witnesses’ scope do not need to be answered by either the witness or by a minister rising during the questioning of witnesses. Once a question has been noted by a witness to be outside of their ambit, the questioner should move on and/or indicate that they – that is, the member – will follow up with the minister responsible at a later date.

Finally, members only have a brief opportunity to question witnesses. Conversely, greater opportunities exist for the members to ask questions of the ministers. These opportunities include tabling written questions, asking oral questions during Question Period, and questioning a minister during budget debates. Ministers also have the ability to respond to questions posed during those opportunities.

All members should avail themselves of these opportunities and leave specific witness questions to be asked of witnesses and answered by witnesses during the witnesses’ appearances.

The Chair would like to thank the members for their attention.”

Committee of the Whole Motion No. 3

Moved by the Hon. Mr. Streicker, Government House Leader:

THAT from 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, November 23, 2021, Lesley Brown, President and Vice-Chancellor of Yukon University, and David Morrison, Chair of the Yukon University Board of Governors, appear as witnesses before Committee of the Whole to answer questions relating to Yukon University.
