Sitting Days by Legislative Assembly

The Yukon Territory Act (1898) created, in section 5, an appointed “Council to aid the Commissioner in the administration of the territory...” Even after the Council became a fully-elected body the name “Council of the Yukon Territory” remained in the Act. On December 13, 1974 this elected body, referring to itself as the “Yukon Legislative Council” adopted a resolution that said, in part, “THAT henceforth this House be known and styled as the Yukon Legislative Assembly...” The use of the term “Legislative Assembly” was not recognized in the Yukon Act until a new Yukon Act came into force on April 1, 2003. Section 10 of the Act says, in part, “The Council established by the former Act is hereby continued as the Legislative Assembly of Yukon.” The charts below list the number of sitting days for this elected body, from the 16th Wholly Elective Council of the Yukon Territory to the 35th Legislative Assembly of Yukon.
