ORAL QUESTION PERIOD

The House conducted the Oral Question Period from 1:44 p.m. to 2:18 p.m.

SPEAKER'S RULING

Question of privilege raised on November 22, 2018

The Speaker made the following ruling on the question of privilege raised by Mr. Cathers, Member for Lake Laberge, on Thursday, November 22, 2018:

“Before the House proceeds to Orders of the Day, the Chair will rule on the question of privilege raised by the Member for Lake Laberge on Thursday, November 22, 2018, the final sitting day of the 2018 Fall Sitting. The member raised the question of privilege in response to a Government of Yukon news release issued while the House was in session on November 22. At the time the news release was issued, two government bills were before Committee of the Whole, and one of them, Bill No. 207, Second Appropriation Act, 2018-19, was under active consideration.

The news release issued in the name of the Premier was entitled ‘Key legislation passes as fall sitting ends’. The opening sentence of the news release says, ‘Significant legislation focused on modernization, openness and inclusivity will pass as the fall sitting of the Yukon Legislative Assembly ends today.’

In raising the question of privilege, the Member for Lake Laberge said that – and I quote: ‘... in issuing that press release, the Premier has violated the privilege of every other member of the Assembly...’ The Member for Lake Laberge based this conclusion on the fact that included in the list of legislation cited in the news release were the two bills before the Committee of the Whole, Bill No. 207 and Bill No. 25, Act to Amend the Legislative Assembly Act (2018).

In support of this proposition, the Member for Lake Laberge cited a ruling that Speaker Geoff Regan delivered in the House of Commons of Canada on June 19, 2018. In that case, Speaker Regan ruled that a prima facie case of breach of privilege – specifically a contempt of Parliament – had occurred with regard to a bulletin placed on an RCMP website. The bulletin spoke of a government firearms bill as if it were law when, in fact, the bill was still before Parliament.

Following Speaker Regan’s ruling, the House of Commons adopted a motion that referred the matter to its Standing Committee on Procedure and House Affairs. The committee is still studying the matter.

The Member for Lake Laberge concluded that the Premier's news release — which presumed that certain bills would pass the House — crossed the same line as the RCMP bulletin and so likewise constituted a prima facie of breach of privilege which, as in the case before the House of Commons, would be a contempt of the Legislative Assembly.

In response, the Government House Leader argued that there was no prima facie breach of privilege and that the two cases were '... distinguishable on the basis of the facts.'

The Government House Leader also asserted that nothing in the news release '... in any way interferes with the members of this House discharging their duties and responsibilities.'

At the time, the Chair ruled that the Member for Lake Laberge had raised the question of privilege at the earliest opportunity, thereby meeting the requirement contained in Standing Order 7(4)(b).

However, the Chair reserved his ruling as to whether there was or was not a prima facie breach of privilege in this case.

As the Chair said at the time, 'Questions of privilege are complicated matters, and the rulings are of great importance to the House; therefore, the Chair will take the question of privilege under advisement and provide a ruling when the House next meets.'

The Chair will provide the ruling shortly. However, before providing the ruling, the Chair will outline the process for dealing with a question of privilege.

First, it is not the Chair's role to rule that a breach of privilege has or has not occurred. Only the House can make that determination. The question for the Chair to decide is whether there appears to be a prima facie — or apparent — breach of privilege.

Pursuant to Standing Order 7(4):

When the Speaker has ruled that

(a) there appears to be a prima facie case of breach of privilege, and

(b) the matter has been raised at the earliest opportunity any member may either immediately propose a motion or, not later than at the conclusion of the next sitting day, give notice of a motion calling upon the Assembly to take action thereon or referring the same to a Committee of the Assembly.

Once such a motion is called for debate, all other business before the House — with the exception of the Daily Routine — will be set aside until debate on the motion is concluded.

The Chair will now briefly summarize the nature of parliamentary privilege. According to the third edition of House of Commons Procedure and Practice at page 57:

Parliamentary privilege refers... to the rights and immunities that are deemed necessary for the House of Commons, as an institution, and its Members, as representatives of the electorate, to fulfill their functions. It also refers to the powers possessed by the House to protect itself, its Members and its procedures from undue interference so that it can effectively carry out its principal functions which are to legislate, deliberate and hold the government to account. In that sense, parliamentary privilege can be viewed as the independence Parliament and its Members need to function unimpeded.

The Yukon Legislative Assembly and its members enjoy similar rights and immunities as the House of Commons and Members of Parliament. These rights and immunities belong, first and foremost, to the Assembly. Members get to exercise their individual rights and immunities, such as freedom of speech, in parliamentary proceedings because they are members of the Assembly.

One of the collective rights of the Assembly is the power to discipline its own members and other persons who are guilty of breaching the Assembly's privileges. As mentioned, the matter raised in Speaker Regan's ruling and referred to by the Member for Lake Laberge in his question of privilege was raised in the House of Commons as a contempt of Parliament, which is a type of breach of privilege.

The third edition of House of Commons Procedure and Practice at page 60 describes contempt of Parliament as:

Any conduct which offends the authority or dignity of the House, even though no breach of any specific privilege may have been committed... Contempt may be an act or an omission. It does not have to actually obstruct or impede the House or a Member; it merely has to have the tendency to produce such results.

In finding that the RCMP's action constituted a prima facie contempt Speaker Regan said, Parliament's authority in scrutinizing and adopting legislative proposals remains unquestionable and should not be taken for granted. The Chair is troubled by the careless manner in which the RCMP chose to ignore this vital fact and, for more than three weeks, allowed citizens and retailers to draw improper conclusions as to their obligations under the law.

He added:

The work of members as legislators is fundamental and any hint or suggestion of this parliamentary role and authority being bypassed or usurped is not acceptable... As Speaker, I cannot turn a blind eye to an approach by a government agency that overlooks the role of Parliament. To do otherwise would make us compliant in denigrating the authority and dignity of Parliament.

The Chair notes that this is not the first time that the Legislative Assembly has dealt with the issue of government news releases and questions of privilege. On April 7, 2005, Speaker Ted Staffen ruled on a question of privilege raised regarding a series of news releases that announced the government's spending plans in advance of the introduction of the main appropriation bill in the Legislative Assembly.

Speaker Staffen concluded that there was no breach of privilege in that case. However, he ended his ruling with the following statement:

The government should take care in how it announces its intention for spending money that the House has yet to appropriate. In researching this ruling the Chair noted that not all government news releases acknowledged that such spending was subject to the approval of the Legislature. The Chair believes this statement should be included in all such statements to ensure that the Assembly's authority is respected, its dignity is protected and the public is properly informed.

Does the Chair conclude that there is a prima facie breach of privilege or a contempt of the House in the matter brought to the attention of this House by the Member for Lake Laberge? The Chair does not. All things considered, the Chair does not believe that the actions of the Government of Yukon, in issuing the news release, rise to the level of a contempt of the Legislative Assembly.

As mentioned, a contempt could be 'Any conduct which offends the authority or dignity of the House...' The authority of the House is not at issue, as no matter what was contained in the news release, the bills mentioned in it still had to pass the House before they could become acts.

What is at issue, then, is the dignity of the House and the extent to which it might have been offended by the news release. The news release was presumptuous. It was also confusing. Though it spoke of legislation that 'will pass' the Legislative Assembly, most of the bills mentioned in the news release had, in fact, already passed the House. Those bills were awaiting assent by the Commissioner, which is a different step in the process by which a bill becomes law.

The Chair therefore concludes that what occurred was an error based on a misunderstanding of the legislative process and the relationship between the executive branch of government and the Legislative Assembly.

Also, this error did not have the same potential impact on Yukoners as the actions referred to by Speaker Regan. Yukoners may have been, for a short period of time, misled about the status of certain bills before the House, but they were not put in a situation where they might – to again quote Speaker Regan – '... for more than three weeks draw improper conclusions as to their obligations under the law.'

Though the Chair concludes that the action of the government on November 22, 2018 does not rise to the level of a contempt, the Chair agrees that the news release should not have been worded as it was.

Further, the Chair believes that those who draft and authorize the release of government information have an obligation to ensure that they accurately describe the proceedings of this House. To quote former Speaker Staffen, this should be done so that '... the Assembly's authority is respected, its dignity is protected and the public is properly informed.'

Therefore, having now addressed this issue, the Chair cannot be expected to extend the benefit of the doubt should this occur again. The Chair thanks the Member for Lake Laberge for raising this important issue and also thanks the Government House Leader for her submission regarding this question of privilege."

The House then proceeded to Orders of the Day.

SPEAKER'S STATEMENT

In remembrance of the victims of the terrorist attack in Christchurch, New Zealand

Prior to proceeding with the Daily Routine, the Speaker made the following statement.

“On behalf of the Yukon Legislative Assembly, I wish to express our collective shock and sadness at the terrible loss of life and injuries caused by the terrorist attack at the Masjid Al Noor mosque and the Linwood Islamic Centre in Christchurch, New Zealand this past Friday, March 15.

We unequivocally condemn the extremism that motivated the terrorist. We stand in solidarity with the Muslim communities in Yukon and around the world. We offer our prayers and support to the victims, their families and all those affected by this calculated, deliberate and appalling act of violence.

These offerings may appear completely inadequate at a time of such unimaginable grief. However, it is precisely at times such as this that we must re-dedicate ourselves to the proposition that we are a society dedicated to pluralism and tolerance. Very clearly, it is imperative that we continue to commit ourselves to the goal of living together in peace and harmony today and every day.

We will now observe a moment of silence.”

SPEAKER'S RULINGMotion No. 438 not placed on Notice Paper as it contains an argument

The Speaker made the following ruling regarding notices of motions:

“Prior to proceeding with notices of motions, the Chair will inform the House that Motion No. 438, notice of which was given yesterday by the Member for Lake Laberge, was not in order and therefore not placed on today’s Notice Paper. The Chair will now provide reasons for this ruling. The 6th edition of Beauchesne’s Parliamentary Rules and Forms in annotation 565 at page 174 says, ‘A motion should neither be argumentative nor in the style of a speech...’

In Motion No. 438, the Member for Lake Laberge would have the House urge the Premier to provide an explanation of comments that the Premier made in a press release on March 21, 2019. In support of this proposition, the Member for Lake Laberge provides a set of facts different from those contained in the Premier’s news release. In doing so, the Member for Lake Laberge is effectively providing an argument within the text of the motion itself. This is not in order. The member is free, of course, to employ his set of facts should a motion on this subject be called for debate. However, they do not belong in the text of the motion itself.

Motions that contain arguments are disorderly for two reasons. First, because during the rubric Notices of Motions, no member other than the member giving notice of the motion is permitted to speak to the notice of motion. Second, the motion is not properly before the House for debate, and so the member giving notice should not be making arguments, no matter how brief.

The House’s current practice regarding notices of motions can be traced to the 2003 Fall Sitting. Members may wish to consult Hansard for November 27, 2003, wherein Speaker Staffen provides a detailed explanation of what is and what is not in order with regard to a notice of motion.

The Chair would also note that Motion No. 438 is a motion that urges a member to provide an explanation to the House. The Chair cannot categorically state that such motions are out of order. However, members who seek explanations may wish to consider whether the explanation that they seek may be better achieved through the use of an oral question, a written question or a motion for the production of papers rather than a notice of motion.”

SPEAKER'S STATEMENT

Youth Parliament

Prior to proceeding with the Daily Routine, the Speaker made the following statement regarding the Yukon Youth Parliament.

“Prior to proceeding with the Order Paper, the Chair will make a statement regarding the Yukon Youth Parliament program which the Legislative Assembly has reintroduced after an eight-year hiatus.

We are fortunate to live in a territory and a country with well-established and stable political institutions. The health and prosperity of our society depends to a great extent on the health of our political system.

The Youth Parliament is one initiative that this Assembly has undertaken to reach out to some of our younger citizens and give them a hands-on experience that will give them valuable insights into our democratic and legislative processes.

We are extremely fortunate that we have this year over 20 bright and enthusiastic youth parliamentarians who are eager to learn more about the political system of our territory. I would also suggest that we, the Members of this Legislative Assembly, also stand to learn from them as they engage in a simulation of what we do.

The program involves youth parliamentarians meeting with current Members of the Legislative Assembly, attending educational sessions on the procedures of the Assembly, and participating in a model parliament session tomorrow.

Students will have the opportunity to, in the same manner as Members of the Legislative Assembly, vigorously debate motions that are of interest to them and topical in their lives, while at the same time allowing them to hear opposing viewpoints argued just as passionately.

The schedule for this year's Youth Parliament coincides with this 2019 Spring Sitting. This provides participants with the opportunity to, on this day – that would be today – observe the Legislative Assembly in action as well as to watch Oral Question Period and Orders of the Day. Later in the day, there will also be presentations and discussions with others who are involved in the political process, including local media and the Commissioner of Yukon.

To replicate the Westminster model of Parliament followed in the Yukon, participants will be organized into political party caucuses. The political parties will be fictitious creations for the purposes of this simulation, but students will learn how real caucuses operate.

The Youth Parliament session will occur tomorrow in this Chamber starting at 10:30 a.m. and will be recorded for broadcast on community television channels and over the Legislative Assembly's radio station. No pressure, youth parliamentarians – no pressure at all; no pressure.

The session will run using a similar order to a motion day in the House and will include an Oral Question Period and debate on two motions. Members of the media at that time have also been invited to assist with a mock media scrum. Everyone wishing to observe the proceedings, including school groups, is welcome to watch from the public galleries.

This undertaking has involved a number of people who I would like to acknowledge – first of all, the youth parliamentarians. Members may recognize some of them as current or former pages. We have with us Emma Boyd, Sheridan Curteanu, Liam Russell, Bella-Sol Roy-Gelinas, Kassua Dreyer, Ralph Hermosa, Brianna Heal, and Elliot Etches from F.H. Collins Secondary School. They have, I believe, named themselves the Progressive Aurora Party. Welcome to the F.H. Collins students.

Their community members are: Sylas Itsi from the Ross River School and John Ethel-McLeod from St. Elias Community School in Haines Junction.

Next, we have the vigorous Official Opposition from Vanier Catholic Secondary School: Phoebe Qiu, Jordan Keats, Joshua Lauer, Heather Mislant, David Cowx, Amelia Wallace, Simon Lauer, and Judy Russell. They have named themselves the United Vanier Party. Where did you come up with that name?

As well, we have the powerful Third Party from Porter Creek Secondary School: Grey Capot-Blanc, Annie Li – who is doing dual duty beside me – and Donald Halliday. They have named themselves ADG, which apparently stands for whatever you wish it to mean. It might have something to do with their names.

The following teachers were also involved and provided invaluable support: Jason Cook from Porter Creek Secondary School; Sylvie Hamel and Janet Clarke from Vanier Catholic Secondary School; and Michel Emery from F.H. Collins Secondary School.

I would also like to thank Danielle Mager, the manager of public affairs and communications from the Legislative Assembly of the Northwest Territories, who has come from Yellowknife to assist us. She has been involved in multiple Youth Parliaments in Yellowknife. We certainly are very appreciative to have her expertise here today. Thank you for coming.

I would also like to thank all of the members of the Assembly and their caucus staff who were involved in last night's reception and who will be involved today and tomorrow. I would briefly say that I think all members – and the Commissioner, I'm sure, as well – were very impressed with the speed and the cohesion of the groups – that all parties came up with their provisional party platforms within about one hour and presented them in a very polished manner. I think the current MLAs who were present last night were extremely impressed – well done with that.

Sittings of the Legislative Assembly are very busy for all of us, so I especially appreciate the effort of all of the currently sitting MLAs for their participation at this busy time.

Last but not least, I would also like to thank Allison Lloyd, the Legislative Assembly's Clerk of Committees, who has devoted countless hours to the organization of the Youth Parliament since we decided in January 2018 to revive this event.

Thank you so much. The 2019 Youth Parliament truly would not be happening without your efforts. Thank you very much, and I wish all youth parliamentarians a wonderful ongoing experience and a fantastic model Parliament session tomorrow."

Pursuant to Standing Order 11(2), the House proceeded with the Daily Routine.

SPEAKER’S RULING

Insulting language

The Speaker made the following ruling regarding Standing Order 19(i):

“Before the House proceeds to Question Period, the Chair will provide additional information regarding a point of order raised yesterday by the Government House Leader and the Chair’s ruling on the point of order.

Yesterday during Question Period, the Member for Lake Laberge said that the proposed electoral reform process ‘... seems designed to stack the deck in favour of the Liberals.’

The member also quoted from a media report wherein a representative of Fair Vote Yukon said – quote: ‘I think the premier has taken too much onto his shoulders. He doesn’t need to be a dictator.’

The Government House Leader then rose on a point of order and said – quote: ‘... the comments being made by the member opposite have crossed the line into imputing false motives. I think the word “dictator” and the comments about “stacking the deck” et cetera are improper in this House and I ask that he withdraw them.’ In response, the Member for Lake Laberge said that he was quoting something that had been said by a member of the public.

The Chair ruled on the point of order yesterday but also committed to take the matter under advisement. The Chair will now provide a more detailed ruling.

The Chair does not believe that the ‘stacking the deck’ comment violated Standing Order 19(g) – the imputation of a false or unavowed motive to another member; however, the Chair, having reviewed the Blues, believes that the use of the word ‘dictator’ in the context in which it was used yesterday constituted insulting language and therefore violated Standing Order 19(i).

This Standing Order prohibits the use of abusive or insulting language, including sexist and violent language, in a context likely to create disorder.

Finally, the Chair would also like to reiterate a point made yesterday that members cannot do indirectly what they cannot do directly. In other words, a member cannot avoid being called to order by attributing unparliamentary words to another person. The fact that the Member for Lake Laberge was quoting another person cited in a media report provides no protection for what the member said.

The Chair thanks the Government House Leader and the Member for Lake Laberge for their contributions to the resolution of the point of order.”

The House conducted the Oral Question Period from 1:41 p.m. to 2:16 p.m.

MOMENT OF SILENCE

In remembrance of victims of the terrorist attack in Sri Lanka

The Speaker made the following statement.

“On behalf of the Yukon Legislative Assembly, I wish to express our shock and sadness at the horrifying loss of life in Sri Lanka, where 321 people perished and many more were injured in a series of coordinated attacks on Easter Sunday.

We condemn these attacks unequivocally, and we are saddened that this is the second time this Sitting that a terrorist attack has resulted in a mass loss of life. There is no place in our world for this kind of behaviour and the hatred that drives it. We offer our sincere condolences and prayers for this tragedy and, in turn, we offer our support for the Government of Sri Lanka as it works to restore order and to identify those who were responsible for this vicious and calculated attack against innocent people. We stand in solidarity with the families of the victims and ask that justice prevails for the perpetrators of these terrible crimes.

Last month, it was members of the Muslim community who were the victims of an awful attack in Christchurch, New Zealand. This past weekend, the violence appears to be targeted toward Christians.

We must ask ourselves: Where will it end, and what can we do about it? Standing here today and saying no to violence, saying no to terror, and saying no to hatred is a good first step. We must never forget the many lives lost and work constantly to denounce the motives that lead to senseless violence and murder. Where people advocate hate, we must advocate understanding.

Where people choose violence, we must choose peace. This was undoubtedly the hopeful message that many of the worshippers were receiving at their Easter celebrations in Sri Lanka and around the world.

We will now observe a moment of silence.”

The Speaker addressed the Commissioner:

"Madam Commissioner, the Assembly has, at its present session, passed certain bills to which, in the name and behalf of the Assembly, I respectfully request your assent."

The Clerk of the Assembly then read the titles of the bills which had been passed severally as follows:

Act to Amend the Education Labour Relations Act

Act to Amend the Employment Standards Act

Act to Amend the Securities Act

Miscellaneous Statute Law Amendment Act, 2019

First Appropriation Act 2019-20

Yukon Government Carbon Price Rebate Implementation Act

The Commissioner assented to the bills:

“I hereby assent to the bills as enumerated by the Clerk.”

The Commissioner made the following statement:

“Merci à Floyd McCormick pour son appui et pour avoir toujours pris le temps de répondre à nos questions et de réviser le processus parlementaire avec moi et mes aides-decamp.

On behalf of myself and previous Commissioners, thank you to Floyd McCormick for his support of the Office of the Commissioner of Yukon over the years. I hope that you enjoy a well-deserved time off.

I will see some of you at the Commissioner’s Klondike tea and ball on June 1 in Dawson. You will soon receive an invitation to visit Taylor House’s second-floor exhibit on James Smith and the evolution of the role of the Commissioner in Yukon. We are putting the final touches to this wonderful exhibition for which the main draw is the desk and chairs that James Smith used in the old federal building during his term as Commissioner of Yukon.

In closing, as it has been my tradition, I will leave you with a quote – this time, an Irish proverb: ‘A good laugh and a long sleep are the two best cures for anything.’ I hope you can get a lot of both.

Thank you, and enjoy your summer”

The Commissioner then retired from the Chamber.

The Speaker called the House to order.

The Speaker made the following statement:

Welcome, and thank you for being here as we pay tribute to the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly.

At the outset, I would like to thank the Clerks-at-the-Table as well as the entire Legislative Assembly Office staff for providing me with a great deal of background material and anecdotes about Dr. McCormick, which you are about to hear. This may take a little while, but I promise, there is some good stuff.

Floyd William McCormick was born in Montreal. It might have been a dark and stormy night – we do not know. Contemporaneous meteorological forecasts could not be independently verified.

In 1976, at the age of 15, he moved to Sarnia with his family when his father, who worked for Union Carbide, started work at the new plant in neighbouring Mooretown. You can't tell Floyd's story without mentioning his late wife, Sheila Dianne Rose, who was born and raised in Petrolia and who, by 1980, had already been named a member of the Order of Canada.

In 1986, Sheila moved to the University of Connecticut to finish her PhD while Floyd was attending the University of Western Ontario pursuing his bachelor's degree.

Their longdistance relationship continued while Sheila moved to the Yukon to become the director of curriculum in the Department of Education in 1989 and Floyd worked on his master's at Western.

After completing his master of political science in 1990, Floyd moved to Edmonton to pursue his PhD at the University of Alberta. In 1995, Floyd – now Dr. McCormick – followed Sheila north and the two made their home together in Whitehorse.

After 22 years together, they were married and enjoyed a wonderful additional nine and a half years of wedded bliss. Through his marriage to Sheila, Floyd became stepfather to Roy Rose and Liz Welsh. He is a beloved grandfather and, incredibly, a great-grandfather to seven great-grandchildren – whoa.

From 1997 to 2001, Floyd worked as a political commentator for CBC Yukon radio and television and a columnist for the Yukon News. As evidence of the 'it's a small world' in the Yukon, at the time, Floyd was a scribe for the Yukon News; the current Minister of Highways and Public Works was, I'm sure, excited to be his boss and very pleased to be his boss.

During those years, Floyd could often be spotted just outside of this Chamber, observing the proceedings from a vantage point up in the press gallery. During that same period of time, Dr. McCormick also served as a political science instructor at Yukon College, teaching a course on Yukon First Nation land claims and self-government.

Floyd's career at the Legislative Assembly officially began on August 15, 2001, when he started his tenure in the role of Deputy Clerk. Dr. McCormick attained the position of Clerk of the Assembly on March 31, 2007, upon the retirement of his predecessor, Patrick Michael – a role Mr. Michael had assumed in 1978.

Not only does Floyd possess a formidable intellect and razor-sharp wit – they made me write that and say it – it is evident that he truly cares about this place – the Legislative Assembly and the people who work here.

Floyd has the universal respect and admiration of Members of the Legislative Assembly, both past and present. Some of those former members and former Speakers have been introduced and are here in the gallery today in honour of Floyd's final day in the Chamber as Clerk.

On behalf of myself and the other Presiding Officers, as well as on behalf of all Members of this House, I would like to extend my sincere gratitude to Floyd for his wisdom and clerkly counsel over the past two and a half years.

But wait – there is more.

Mr. Clerk enjoys the admiration and unreserved respect of his Table Clerks, of the staff of the Legislative Assembly Office, Hansard, and the Officers of the Assembly — both past and present — many of who have gathered in the gallery in appreciation of him and his service to the Chamber.

Dr. McCormick is also held in high esteem by his peers across Canada and throughout the Commonwealth. Floyd has held every role on the executive committee of the Association of Clerks-at-the-Table in Canada, known as 'CATS'. He has served as the society's secretary-treasurer, vice-president and president. Representing the society in 2009 and 2010, Dr. McCormick attended the Australia and New Zealand Association of Clerks-at-the-Table's professional development conference, known by the snappy acronym 'ANZACATT'. This fostered a special relationship which has continued with his colleagues Down Under who continue to value Floyd's perspective and his invaluable contributions to the profession.

Generous with his time and assistance, in contrast, Floyd is frugal when it comes to himself. Eschewing for years the suggestion that the time may have come to replace some of the more threadbare components of his traditional Clerk's uniform, Floyd has been observed whimsically wielding a black Sharpie to colour in the frayed corners of the waistcoat that forms part of the clerkly garb — very prudent, very prudent.

Hansard, who hold Floyd in great affection, have helpfully suggested post-Yukon Legislative Assembly occupations for Mr. McCormick — most notably, maître d' or perhaps a skilled sommelier, which would permit him to continue to use the fancy uniform that he has taken such great care to preserve.

On the subject of uniforms, while noting that the past tradition of Yukon Speakers sporting a tricorne as part of their presiding officer's uniform had ended some decades ago, Dr. McCormick offered that this formal and historic three-cornered hat could potentially enjoy a renaissance in Yukon were it modified to suit the northern climate and sensibilities by featuring Red Greenesque thermal earflaps.

As many of you know, on many winter evenings, Floyd trades in his clerkly white tabs and black robes for a hockey uniform. He has for many years geared up and has stacked the pads in both the Whitehorse rec and Whitehorse old-timers' hockey leagues. Floyd is equally fierce defending the role of the Assembly as he is in his current hockey team, the Yukon Inn. During one game some years ago, a rogue puck broke Floyd's finger. In consequence of this mishap, Floyd wore a splint for some time. The now-Premier — Mr. 'Shall not be named' — on noting the conspicuous addition to Floyd's robes of the splint, inquired how Floyd had come by that injury, and upon being briefed on the occurrence, remarked that Yukon's Clerk had sustained the most Canadian of all possible injuries. The splint period is also discernible in the official records of the House, forming a noticeable interruption in the normally impressive and meticulous handwriting with which Floyd signs official documents — and presumably all documents. For a time, these signatures arguably came to resemble the stereotypically illegible prescriptions of a physician, but, as Floyd has often remarked, he is 'not that kind of doctor.' Despite the splint, Floyd dutifully and painstakingly continued to sign the required documents, which after a period of time, once again came to feature Floyd's characteristic calligraphy.

Floyd is committed to the ideals of parliamentary democracy. He has observed that a Clerk's role is to safeguard the institution of parliament for the members. He has further wryly observed that, in theory, a Clerk's role could conceivably, on occasion, entail safeguarding the institution from the members. I think we can agree that Floyd's devotion to parliamentary democracy and to the institution and his nonpartisanship have served the Assembly and its members exceedingly well.

We're almost there – so much to say. Floyd's poker face is inscrutable – at times, disconcertingly so. For example, once, when the electronic division bells summoning members back to the House for a vote were not functioning, Floyd, in characteristic deadpan, offered to run throughout the administration building with bear bells strapped across his body to alert the members to the upcoming vote. It's a good image.

I was interested to learn that it was only after considerable deliberation and soul-searching that Floyd, recognizing the heavy responsibility that falls on the Clerk's shoulders, applied for the Clerk's job. In fact, Floyd waited until – I am advised – quite literally the final hour before submitting his application. Apparently, Floyd had discussed with Sheila his considerable reservations about applying for the role. He decided against it, and then of course, did what Sheila strongly advised.

Floyd was always one to appreciate the adage – I don't love this adage but: 'Happy wife, happy life.' While Floyd noted that he would have accepted with equanimity whatever the results had been of that competition, I believe that I speak for members and staff, past and present, that it was an auspicious day for the Assembly when Floyd was named Clerk.

On being asked what Floyd would do for fun in the near future, post-retirement, he offered a few things – first, that he will be travelling to Vancouver in June to attend – wait for it – the annual notoriously bacchanalian cabal of the Canadian Political Science Association. I am sure there are a few political scientists in the Chamber who could potentially join Dr. McCormick.

When pressed for details of further travels – enjoyable ones – he brightly offered that he may also find himself in the nation's capital this year in later summer at coincidentally – or not – the same time as the annual professional development seminar featuring a veritable 'who's who' of a rogue's gallery at the Association of Clerks-at-the-Table in Canada. Floyd is also contemplating a visit this summer to see his stepson Roy in the town of Middleton, Nova Scotia.

Between his service as Deputy Clerk and as Clerk, Dr. McCormick's tenure has now spanned 977 sitting days, starting on October 18, 2001, and including today's proceedings. This is a remarkable achievement, and one from which Floyd has largely emerged with both his wits and his wit intact.

We thank Floyd for his friendship, for his service to the Assembly, and wish him nothing but amazing future adventures. Thank you.”

TRIBUTE TO FLOYD MCCORMICK, CLERK OF THE YUKON LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

The Hon. Ms. McPhee, Government House Leader, Mr. Kent, Member for Copperbelt South, and Ms. Hanson, Leader of the Third Party, paid tribute to Floyd McCormick, retiring Clerk of the Yukon Legislative Assembly.

Following the tribute, a Midnight Sun Pipe Band piper entered the Chamber and performed on bagpipe in honour of Floyd McCormick.

SPEAKER’S STATEMENT

In recognition of legislative staff

The Speaker made the following statement:

“Before I adjourn the Spring Sitting of the Yukon Legislative Assembly, I have a few brief comments. I would like to extend my thanks on behalf of the Speaker, the Deputy Speaker, the Deputy Chair of Committee of the Whole, and on behalf of all MLAs to the retiring Clerk Floyd McCormick, the incoming Clerk Dan Cable, Deputy Clerk Linda Kolody, Clerk of Committees Allison Lloyd, Director of Administration, Finance and Systems Helen Fitzsimmons, Operations Manager Brenda McCain-Armour, Finance and Operations Clerk Lyndsey Amundson, as well as Sergeant-at-Arms Karina Watson and Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms Harris Cox, who all provide invaluable support to all MLAs and their staff in order for all of us to continue to do the important work that we are sent here to do on behalf of all Yukoners.

As well, I would also like to take this opportunity to thank the skilled team at Hansard for their timely and accurate service, the pages for their efforts to keep us hydrated, and all the other background staff and contractors who keep this operation going.

I wish Members of the Legislative Assembly all the best for the summer. Safe travels as you recharge your batteries and return to your respective ridings to connect with your loved ones, extended family and friends, and with your constituents. Thank you very much.”

ADJOURNMENT OF THE SITTING

The Speaker then stated:

“As the House has now reached the maximum number of sitting days permitted for this Spring Sitting and the House has completed consideration of the designated legislation, it is the duty of the Chair to declare that this House now stands adjourned.”

The Assembly adjourned at 5:58 p.m.
