Clerk advises House that Commissioner will not deliver Speech from the Throne until Speaker is elected

The Commissioner, the Hon. Doug Phillips, entered the Chamber and took the Chair.

The Clerk of the Legislative Assembly then stated:

"I am commanded by the Commissioner, in his capacity as Lieutenant Governor, to state that he does not see fit to declare the causes of the summoning of the present Assembly of this territory until a Speaker of this Assembly shall have been chosen according to law, but today at a subsequent hour he will declare the causes of the calling of this Assembly."

The Commissioner then retired from the Chamber.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

The Clerk addressed the House:

"Honourable Members, nominations are invited for the Office of Speaker of this Assembly."

Motion #1

It was moved by the Hon. Mr. Pasloski, Premier, and seconded by Liz Hanson, Leader of the Official Opposition, and Mr. Elias, Leader of the Third Party:

“THAT David Laxton, Member for Porter Creek Centre, do take the Chair of this Assembly as Speaker.”

The Clerk, having scanned the House for further nominations, repeated the motion and called for a vote. He then stated:

“The ayes have it, and David Laxton, Member for Porter Creek Centre, is, by direction of this Assembly, duly elected as Speaker of the Yukon Legislative Assembly.”

SPEAKER'S ADDRESS TO THE ASSEMBLY

The Speaker retired from the Chamber, donned his robe and re-entered the Chamber.

The Premier, the Leader of the Official Opposition and the Leader of the Third Party, shook hands with the newly-elected Speaker and offered their congratulations.

Standing on the Dais, the Speaker thanked the Assembly as follows:

“Commissioner Phillips, Premier Pasloski, Members of the Legislature, colleagues and visitors, I am truly humbled by the faith you have placed in me today. It has been a long road to this place — something I couldn't have done without the help of my partner Leslie, my family, my friends and those many people who have also placed their highest trust in me: my constituents and the members here. I'm a veteran, and as such, I know how important it is to have and maintain this trust. Today you have made me Speaker of the Yukon Legislative Assembly. It's truly humbling. When William Lenthall became Speaker of the British House of Commons in 1640, he politely reminded the King of three fundamental things needed by Parliament: access to the Sovereign, privilege from arrest and freedom of speech. In return, he promised, on behalf of Parliament, fidelity and fiscal responsibility. Two years later, when the King entered the House looking for five disruptive members and demanding their whereabouts, Lenthall, with good sense, told him that the Speaker has neither eyes to see, nor tongue to speak, but only as members direct. Through these two events, Lenthall reinforced the Speaker as Parliament's spokesperson for conveying its resolutions to the Sovereign and, equally important, the Speaker as a neutral servant of the House.

This remains true some 370 years later. There is historic folklore that some Speakers in centuries past have taken on this role at their personal peril. That's why we don't go to the Speaker's chair willingly, in case the King's executioner is waiting in the wings.

But when we do accept, we do so with a humility for those gone before and with a single determination: to leave this Chamber a better place. The position of Speaker is the third highest in our parliamentary democracy. First is the Queen's representative, in our case the Commissioner; next is the Premier, and then comes the Speaker. This hierarchy shows how central the Yukon Legislative Assembly is in the everyday governance of our fellow citizens, and it underscores the importance of having a Speaker who must ensure that the business of the Legislature is conducted in a fair, disciplined and respectful manner.

To that end, it's my duty to be impartial, to treat all members equally and without favour. It is also necessary for a Speaker to be independent from the executive side of government, to issue rulings and orders with the neutrality required of this office. That's the heritage and the task, and that is why I have to be a worthy successor to the Speakers who have discharged their responsibility with dignity, wisdom and patience. You see, nothing else is acceptable. Such is the weight of maintaining both the confidence and respect of the Legislature.

In return for this, I ask that you conduct yourselves in debate, not only with vigour befitting your basic political values, beliefs and vision, but also with the decorum befitting the special office you have been given by our fellow citizens. How you treat each other will in large measure determine the worth that Yukoners convey upon you.

This is a chamber of debate, the highest in our territory. Young and old will look to you for leadership, inspiration, and most importantly, assurance – assurance that your first care is to the well-being of our citizens. While putting much effort into crafting clever questions designed to embarrass, and evading answers to that same end, may seem like the smart thing to do, putting effort into eliciting reasonable and useful information on both sides is perhaps the courageous thing to do. In asking this of you, I will certainly do my part in the thoughtful application of the rules governing matters of procedure in this Assembly.

Finally, there is a public trust that we have all undertaken ourselves, and personal awareness of this trust is something we must never forget. Even in the heavy mix of debate and interest, we are its guardians. We are its servants.

You have just given me the greatest honour in my professional life, next to being a member of this Legislature. In return, I pledge concentration, focus and clarity in my new role, and it reflects my belief and basic honesty and decency of my fellow colleagues. I will do my utmost to serve both faithfully and effectively in the discharge of that trust. Thank you."

The Speaker then took his seat and addressed the Clerk as follows:

"Mr. Clerk, will you please advise the Commissioner, in his capacity as Lieutenant Governor, that the Assembly is now prepared to hear the Speech from the Throne."

The Commissioner returned to the Chamber and took the Chair.

SPEAKER'S ADDRESS TO THE COMMISIONER

The Speaker then said:

"Mr. Commissioner:

The Members of the Legislative Assembly have elected me to be their Speaker and I recognize the important duties now given to me. If, in the performance of those duties, I should at any time make a mistake, the fault is mine and not that of the Assembly, whose servant I am. At this time, so that all Members of the Assembly can best carry out their duty to Yukon, to their country and to the Queen, I would claim for them their undoubted rights and privileges, especially freedom of speech in their debates, access to your person when necessary and your favourable consideration of their proceedings.”

RESPONSE BY THE COMMISSIONER

The Commissioner then said:

“Mr. Speaker:

I am pleased to declare to you that I believe in the duty of the Assembly and, not doubting the Assembly’s proceedings will be conducted with wisdom, temper and care, I grant and allow the Assembly’s constitutional privileges. I assure you that the Assembly shall have ready access to me and that the Assembly’s proceedings, words and actions will receive from me favourable consideration. ”

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

The Commissioner then delivered the Speech from the Throne as follows:

“Mr. Speaker, Members of the Yukon Legislative Assembly, Yukoners, visitors and honoured guests, I welcome you in our Sovereign’s name to the First Session of the 33rd Legislative Assembly.

It is worthy to note that my government is the only government since the inception of party politics in 1978 to achieve a third mandate. This indeed is historic and clearly demonstrates that the people of the Yukon continue to want political stability, continuity and prosperity.

Prior to 2002, Yukon had experienced seven years of economic recession. Yukon’s population had been in decline for six consecutive years, following the closure of the Faro mine in 1997.

Yukon’s unemployment rate had been in the double-digit range for years. Yukon’s mining industry was nearly defunct, with exploration and development spending in the territory being less than $10 million. Almost 3,000 Yukoners – our young people, our prime labour force – left the Yukon to find work Outside.

Rebuilding Yukon’s private sector economy was job one for the two previous Yukon governments elected in 2002 and re-elected in 2006. They put Yukon on the pathway to prosperity and my government, re-elected in 2011, wants to continue that journey.

My government’s vision, ‘Moving Forward Together’, continues to build upon the four pillars of the two previous Yukon governments: better quality of life, the environment, the economy and good governance. These pillars are the solid foundations upon which my government will continue to build the future. A growing, prosperous economy creates challenges. My government welcomes these challenges.

In relation to the quality of life, both housing and land availability have been identified as pressing challenges. With a strong economy and a housing demand exceeding supply, my government is committed to making a range of housing options available to Yukoners. For those most in need, my government is working with the Salvation Army to significantly increase the capacity of the shelter, which could mean a new shelter at a new location or a significant renovation to the existing shelter.

As part of its housing strategy, my government is proposing to implement a number of projects throughout the Yukon, including the following: a youth shelter in Whitehorse; the construction of a new seniors complex in Mayo; the replacement of McDonald Lodge in Dawson City with a new facility to be attached to the new Dawson Hospital; second-stage housing for Kaushee's Place in Whitehorse, the expansion from six to 24 units of the Options for Independent Living complex for adults with FASD; replacing double-wide trailers in Carmacks and Ross River with four stick-built units in each community; and other housing projects, including making land available to Yukon College to construct a new student residence.

My government will be working with the private sector to increase the supply of affordable rental units, which has been identified as another pressing need. It is proposed that the four-hectare parcel of land located between Range Road and Mountainview Drive in the Takhini area be sold to a private developer or developers on special terms and conditions with the caveat that the property will be used for the construction of affordable rental units.

My government also recently signed an agreement with the Kwanlin Dun First Nation to explore development opportunities in relation to residential land and housing for the general public, while providing economic development benefits to the Kwanlin Dun.

Yukon First Nations are key partners in our thriving economy. My government is also working in collaboration with the Teslin Tlingit Council to make land available and will be working with other interested First Nations to meet the territory's land availability and housing needs.

Yukon's growing prosperous economy has resulted in a substantial increase in population, which in turn is putting increased pressure on the territory's health and social services safety net. This is another challenge my government must meet. My government has proposed a variety of initiatives to meet these challenges, including putting more resources into addictions recovery, including the following: replacing the aging Sarah Steele Building with a larger, more modern facility that will provide space and resources to support an after-care program for people coming out of the 28-day program, as well as support for land-based treatment programs with Yukon First Nations; providing more resources toward youth alcohol and drug programming; adding more incentives to attract medical professionals, including family doctors; investing in health care infrastructure, such as the new MRI facility and the new emergency department at the Whitehorse General Hospital; providing support for families caring for seniors and children with disabilities through a new caregiver tax credit and other measures; and enhancing the home care program and helping seniors staying in their homes longer.

My government is committed to implementing its vision for supporting child care and early learning, including the following: expanding the 'Learning Together' initiative that assists parents and children with transitions to kindergarten in schools throughout the territory; providing additional support for children with disabilities and developmental challenges, including adjusting the direct operating grant to address the additional costs of helping children with special needs; strengthening the licensed child care system by helping to address the training and retention needs; and creating a new parenting and early development resource centre.

Yukon's growing and prosperous economy has created an increased demand for more educational facilities and training programs. My government is committed to meeting this challenge by educating and training Yukoners for Yukon opportunities. The aging F.H. Collins school will be replaced by a new modern school and my government is committed to transforming Yukon College into a northern university in the longer term. Immediate priorities include providing land at Yukon College for the proposed centre for northern innovation in mining and increased opportunities to Yukon entrepreneurs by expanding programming delivered through the technology innovation fund and the cold climate innovation fund.

My government is committed to protecting, preserving and celebrating Yukon's pristine environment, sensitive ecosystems and wilderness landscapes. It will continue to take innovative steps to address climate change through the implementation of its Climate Change Action Plan and manage Yukon's air, land, water and wildlife resources for the benefit of present and future Yukon generations.

The new initiative will see the development of a Yukon water strategy to improve access to safe drinking water, and increase data collection and information sharing on water resources.

My government is committed to meeting its obligation to establish special management areas and habitat protection areas under the land claim settlements as well as a plan to manage a system of natural wilderness preserves, natural environmental parks and ecological reserves throughout the territory.

Implementation of a solid-waste action plan will ensure the creation of a state-of-the-art solid-waste management system that will adapt to the changing needs of future generations of Yukon communities.

Yukon today enjoys one of the best economies in Canada. My government is committed to the continued expansion and growth of the Yukon economy by promoting the Yukon Territory's economic mainstays, such as mining, both hardrock and placer, tourism, and oil and gas; promoting economic diversification in other sectors, such as arts and culture, film and sound, forestry, agriculture, wilderness tourism, outfitting, trapping, research and development, knowledge-based industries, and value-added manufacturing; maintaining Yukon's extremely favourable general tax environment that promotes investment in the territory; and providing access to land, regulatory certainty, business incentive and marketing programs, and the provision of necessary transportation, communication and energy infrastructure.

A growing and prosperous economy needs affordable access to energy if it's going to grow. This is one of Yukon's major challenges. Yukon energy needs are real and immediate and my government is committed to investing in short-, medium- and long-term solutions to ensure energy in Yukon remains clean and affordable. To this end, my government will ensure the completion of the Mayo B hydro project, the development of an independent power producer policy and net metering to provide power to Yukoners in the short term. My government is committed to the development of a natural gas industry, as well as geothermal, wind, solar, biomass and hydroelectric projects to meet medium- and long-term needs.

For longer-term energy needs, my government is committed to planning the construction of large-scale hydroelectric projects in one or more of the numerous areas of Yukon already identified as suitable for a hydro project. As part of its long-term vision, my government will also plan for the extension of Yukon's power grid to Alaska and British Columbia.

Good governance is another important pillar of laying a solid foundation for Yukon's future. Yukon is coming of age through effective leadership, political stability, cooperative governments and strong fiscal management. My government will continue to implement cooperative governance and partnerships with Yukon First Nations, utilizing the Yukon Forum and the intergovernmental forum with Canada, as well as promote mutual respect of each other's jurisdiction.

It will work cooperatively with Yukon communities to address the issues raised in the 'Our Towns, Our Future' report. It will utilize a pan-northern collaborative approach with the Northwest Territories and Nunavut to advance northern interests with the provinces and the Government of Canada and in the international community.

It will work cooperatively with neighbouring jurisdictions, such as the State of Alaska, British Columbia and Alberta, as well as members of the Pacific NorthWest Economic Region, to promote strategic alliances and regional economic development initiatives in which there are shared interests.

Canada north of 60 is coming of age. It is gratifying to see the Government of Canada increasingly appears to recognize that Canada's northern frontier holds Canada's promise for the future and that the three northern territories will play a very important role in Confederation.

My government remains committed to completing and implementing land claims and will continue to urge the Government of Canada, the White River First Nation, the Liard First Nation and the Ross River Dena Council to complete the unfinished business of settling claims in the Yukon. It will work individually with settled Yukon First Nations to implement their settlements on a government-to-government basis and fully honour the commitments set out in the treaties.

My government will continue to advance Yukon's constitutional position in relation to federal recognition of the Crown in right of Yukon, the resolution of in outstanding offshore northern boundary issues, and initiatives that support Arctic sovereignty.

My government remains committed to practising open, accountable, fiscally responsible government and to work constructively with all members of this House to improve the operation of its committees and the proceedings of the Legislature.

Of equal importance, my government will work with Yukon's professional public service to implement the commitments outlined in my government's vision for the future, 'Moving Forward Together', to turn this vision into reality and help all Yukon citizens reach their potential and realize their dream of a better tomorrow.

During this sitting, honourable members will be asked to consider Bill #2, Fourth Appropriation Act, 2010-11, and Bill #3, Second Appropriation Act, 2011-12.

May divine providence attend your deliberations. I thank you in our Sovereign's name.

God bless Yukon, God bless Canada and God save the Queen."

The Commissioner then retired from the Chamber.

The Speaker resumed the Chair and called the House to order and proceeded with prayers.

SPEAKER'S RULING Re: Tabling of Documents

"Prior to calling for the Tabling of Returns and Documents the Chair will rule on a Point of Order raised yesterday by the Government House Leader.

Yesterday, during Tabling Returns and Documents the Member for Riverdale South sent to the Table a document entitled 'Minority Report on Whistle-blower Protection.'

The Government House Leader rose on a Point of Order and informed the House that Members had attempted to table this document during the 32nd Legislative Assembly and that this attempt was ruled out of order by the Speaker, Hon. Ted Staffen.

The Government House Leader is correct.

In his ruling Speaker Staffen cited Standing Order 49(1) which says, 'A report from a Committee shall be signed by the Chair, on behalf of the Committee, and shall be presented to the Assembly by the Chair or by another Member of the Committee authorized by the Chair or the Committee.'

The Members who originally attempted to table the report were not authorized by the Committee to present it to the House. The document was not, therefore, accepted as a tabled document and it was returned to the Members.

Pursuant to Standing Order 49(1), the Member for Riverdale South is also not authorized to table the report. Therefore, the Member's attempt to table it yesterday is also out of order.

The document will not, therefore, be entered into the Assembly's working papers or distributed in the normal fashion for a tabled document. It will be returned to the Member."

SPEAKER'S RULING Re: Unparliamentary language

Prior to proceeding with Question Period, the Speaker gave the following ruling pertaining to a Point of Order that was raised on Tuesday, December 6, 2011, during Question Period, by the Hon. Mr. Cathers, Government House Leader.

"During Question Period yesterday the Member for Copperbelt South referenced a government bill now before Canada's Parliament and said, 'I would point out, Mr. Speaker, that crime rates are decreasing without these vengeful actions'.

At that point the Government House Leader rose on a Point of Order and said, 'Mr. Speaker, I believe it's contrary to our Standing Orders and to past rulings for a Member of this House to refer to the actions of another government in Canada as being 'vengeful'.

In her defence, the Member for Copperbelt South argued that the term 'vengeful' was not an unparliamentary term.'

Freedom of speech during parliamentary proceedings is, perhaps, the fundamental privilege that Members enjoy as MLAs. The exercise of this right is subject only to the rules, practices and precedents of the House itself.

Members must appreciate that context is important in determining what language is or is not unparliamentary; it is not the words so much as how they are used that determines if they are appropriate or not.

If I may quote from the second edition of House of Commons Procedure and Practice, at page 619:

In dealing with unparliamentary language, the Speaker takes into account the tone, manner and intention of the Member speaking; the person to whom the words at issue were directed; the degree of provocation; and, most importantly, whether or not the remarks created disorder in the Chamber. Thus, language deemed unparliamentary one day may not necessarily be deemed unparliamentary the following day.

Another point to consider is that when a Member chooses to use strong language in the House he or she must be aware that if certain words in a certain context may be used by them those same words, in a similar context, may be used against them.

In the context in which the word 'vengeful' was used yesterday the Chair does not believe there is a Point of Order.

However, Members should be aware that in future if the word is used persistently, or in a different context, in a manner likely to create disorder in the House, the Chair may rule differently."

ORAL QUESTION PERIOD

The House conducted the Oral Question Period from 1:26 p.m. to 1:57 p.m.

The House then proceeded to Orders of the Day.

PETITIONS

Report of the Clerk

“Mr. Speaker and Honourable Members of the Assembly:

I have had the honour to review a petition, being Petition #1 of the First Session of the 33rd Legislative Assembly, as presented by the Member for Takhini-Kopper King on December 7, 2011.

The model petition, which is appended to the Standing Orders, indicates that to meet the requirements as to form, a petition must be addressed to the Legislative Assembly, must state a grievance, must contain original signatures and must ask the Legislative Assembly to take an action in response to that grievance.

The first version of the petition is addressed to the Legislative Assembly and does state a grievance. However, the request for action is directed at the Government of Yukon, not the Legislative Assembly.

The second version of the petition is not addressed to the Legislative Assembly and the request for action is directed at the Government of Yukon, not the Legislative Assembly.

The third version of the petition is not directed to the Legislative Assembly, does not contain original signatures and the request for action is directed at the Government of Yukon, not the Legislative Assembly.

Therefore, none of the versions of Petition #1 meet the requirements as to form of the Standing Orders of the Yukon Legislative Assembly. The petition will, therefore, be returned to the Member for Takhini-Kopper King.

Floyd McCormick, Clerk
Yukon Legislative Assembly"

The Speaker ruled that, accordingly, Petition #1 could not be received.

SPEAKER'S RULING (Re: Supplementary Questions)

Prior to proceeding with Question Period, the Speaker gave the following ruling pertaining to a Point of Order that was raised during Question Period on December 13, 2011 by the Hon. Mr. Cathers, Government House Leader.

“Yesterday, during Question Period, the Government House Leader raised a Point of Order regarding questions posed by the Member for Copperbelt South. The Government House Leader said that ‘Supplementary questions are supposed to be relevant to the first question, and I believe the Member’s question is a new question.’

In response, the Member for Copperbelt South said ‘I think the programming in the Correctional Centre is relevant to the cost of the facility and the nature of the planning that the government has done on this facility – or the lack of planning the government has done on the facility.’

In reviewing yesterday’s Blues, the Chair notes that the main and first supplementary questions of the Member for Copperbelt South addressed capital cost overruns at the new Whitehorse Correctional Centre and the final supplementary question addressed programming at the Correctional Centre.

The issue for the Chair, then, is whether it is in order for supplementary questions to be on a different subject matter than the main question.

House of Commons Procedure and Practice says a supplementary question ‘is meant to flow from or be based upon the information given to the House in the response of the Minister or Parliamentary Secretary to the initial or preceding question.’ Such questions are to be constructed as ‘a follow-up device flowing from the response and ought to be a precise question put directly and immediately to the Minister, without any further statement.’ This Assembly has never followed such a restrictive practice regarding supplementary questions. Nonetheless, this statement provides some direction regarding the nature of a supplementary question.

This Assembly’s Guidelines for Oral Question Period say a question ought to address a matter of public importance or a matter within the administrative responsibility of the Government of Yukon. So, therefore, should supplementary questions.

If we look at the actual conduct of Question Period it is clear that the practice of this House is that main and supplementary questions are on the same matter or subject. The form of questioning pursued by the Member for Copperbelt South was not in keeping with this practice.

It is the Chair’s ruling therefore, that Members should continue to follow the practice of this House: Their questions should be linked by subject matter.

In making this ruling the Chair is trying to balance two things. On the one hand the Chair wants to ensure that Members can exercise their freedom of speech in the House, including the right to question Ministers during Question Period. However, the Chair is concerned that supplementary questions may become supplementary in name only and come to bear little resemblance to the main question. The Chair does not believe that would be in keeping with the nature of a supplementary question, the intent of the Guidelines for Oral Question Period, or the practice of this House.”

ORAL QUESTION PERIOD

The House conducted the Oral Question Period from 1:13 p.m. to 1:44 p.m.

The House then proceeded to Orders of the Day.
