The Standing Committee on Statutory Instruments has the honour to present its

THIRD REPORT

Your Committee has examined the Electrical Protection Regulations (Commissioner's Order 1977/8) adopted pursuant to the Electrical Protection Ordinance.

Your Committee is concerned with the wording of the Electrical Contractors' Licence as shown on Form L of the said Regulations. This form is designed in such a way as to require an electrical contractor who is not himself a qualified Journeyman to specify the name of an individual in his employ who is a qualified Journeyman. While your Committee has no complaint with the Regulations per se we do not feel that the licence should indicate the name of the Journeyman employed by the electrical contractor.

There is a real possibility that the employee so named might attempt to take unfair advantage of his employer by virtue of him being named on the licence.

Your Committee has formulated and presents for your consideration the following recommendation related thereto:

1. That the Electrical Contractors' Licence be amended by deleting the words "who holds Certificate Number ___ or employs _____ who holds Certificate Number ___".

Your Committee further recommends that a copy of the recommendation contained in this report be transmitted to the Minister of Local Government and that at the fall session 1977 the amended Regulations be so reported in the Report of the Registrar of Regulations.

Respectfully submitted,

Bob Fleming
Chairman
